GASTON H. HEWES ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Gaston H. Hewes, Harrison County attorney, and a member of one of South Mississippi's oldest families, today announced his candidacy for the office of district attorney of the Second Judicial District of Mississippi in the special election set May 1 to elect a successor to the late R. Clifton Cowan of Gulfport.

Already serving his fourth term as Harrison County prosecuting attorney, Mr. Hewes is widely known in the dictrict which he aspires to serve, and feels that his record as an honest, hardworking and conscientious officer qualifies him for the post left vacant by the death of the late R. C. Cowan.

First elected to the office of Harrison County attorney in 1931 Mr. Hewes has consistently won the support of the voters, and thus has been honored by being selected as prosecuting attorney for four terms.

THE SUNRISE OF FAITH

GREATER LOVE NO MAN HATH!

TINETEEN hundred years ago there dwelt in Judea a Man in Whom was united the Divine with the human. He went about doing good to all men, but even His own did not receive Him. Yet, imbued with divine love, He gave up His life in order that we might all be saved and enjoy eternal happiness in the after life. "Greater love than this no man hath, that he giveth his life for a friend." This is the event which is commemorated this Friday, March 30th, known as Good Friday, because of the great benefits accrued to mankind by the Passion and death of the Savior.

Mankind in general has forgotten the lesson of Calvary. Today we see the world convulsed because of the lessons of hate which have been taught such great masses of youth and because of the insatiable ambitions of men drunk with power and wanting still more. Millions of lives have been snuffed out in the flower of their youth because of this hate and these ambitions, and the end is not yet.

Man must return to the practice of his duty to God and to his fellowmen, and through love and sacrifice approach the foot of the Cross. No time is better than today when all must exert themselves to resist the desires for riches and power, opportunities for attaining which are numerous because of the confusion of the times. We must all be willing to give up some of our comforts and some of our possessions and some of our leisure for our own safety and the good of all. The greater our sacrifices are the better will be the results.

The lesson of Calvary is brought home to us most vividly by the presence of our own on the battle front. Our sons, our brothers; our husbands and our sweethearts are offering their lives AND GIVING THEM that we may all be free. Let us emulate their sacrifices, and in the light of the Cross raised high on Calvary, determine to exert ourselves for the common cause, setting aside all personal gains and selfish desires, so that we may attain peace with victory and justice, and liberty for us all.

BACKING PRICE CONTROL

THE effort to establish price control on a firm basis in the United States, in the interest of all the people, cannot succeed unless the OPA has the active support of Americans.

Regardless of the rules and regulations set up by the OPA, the situation will get out of control if buyers willingly pay more than ceiling prices. The black markets that have sprung up throughout the country, and which threaten the success of the price control effort, are supported by individuals who, for all practical purposes, are just as guilty as the sellers.

Everybody knows that there is a huge surplus of money in the United States, that there is a scarcity of goods and services and that, without regulation prices would skyrocket. This would lead to a disastrous inflation.

The control of prices is a necessity in connection with the prosecution of the war. Without control, the nation would have to spend many additional billions to promote its warfare and, in addition, a vicious spiral of adjustments would pyramid prices to a dangerous and artificial level.

The average American, who reads this article, may think that the job of price control can be left to the Government. This is a serious mistake. No Government can enforce regulations to prevent inflation unless it has the cooperation of its citizens. Every time an individual pays more than the ceiling price for anything, he, or she, adds impetus to the force that threatens inflation. It will not do to blame the avidity of sellers without denouncing the callousness of buyers.

WHAT ABOUT OUR FOOD SUPPLY?

THE proposal to investigate the food problems of the nation, especially the critical shortage of some products, may result in real service if the inquiry is intelligently directed toward the discovery of facts and does not get off into a political side-

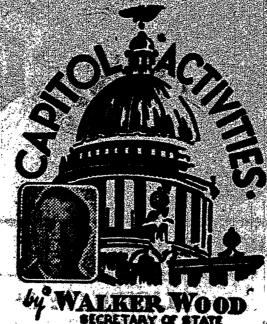

There are Senators and Representatives in Congress who are more interested in making the headlines, or of needling the opposition, than they are of improving any situation that may be a detrimental factor in the handling, distribution or storage of

Of course, there is always room for complaint about the callocation of food. There will be many to suggest that we cut down the assistance being sent to British and Russian soldiers. Others will assert that the people of liberated countries can tight en their belts and do without until their own harvests arrive. There will be some hardboiled enough to recommend that our own fighting men be put on shorter rations. These will be the greedy element of the home front. They do not believe that any fighting man makes much of a sacrifice for his country and consequently they are unwilling to do without anything themselves.

We have seen numerous allegations as to food, with charges that policies in effect have cut down the available supply. There may be some truth in some of these statements but, in the main, they have not been substantiated in detail. Certainly, an investigation into the charges that points to the facts will be serwiceable to the country.

SCHOOL BUSES W. G. Eckles, director of the school building service, has given out comprehensive statement of school bus situation in the state. Under Chapter 203, Laws of 1944, County School Boards are authorized to purchase and operate school buses. The law was safeguarded and the State Board of Education, composed of Attorney Generl Greek Rice, Secretary of State, Walker Wood, and State Superintendent of Education, J. S. Vandiver, was required to approve specifications and contracts. The report shows that seventy-six Mississippi counties are organizing

KATE SMITH asked to write this message on Saving Used Fats!

"The help of every woman is needed in saving used fats for hundreds of battlefield and home front essentials. But some of us don't know all the ways we can do it. Here are a few points I've found helpful."-Kate Smith

MANY WOMEN SAY: "But I never have fats left over." Certainly it's good economy to re-use your fats...but there's always some left over even after that...and that little is more important than you can imagine. Only one tablespoonful of used fat will help make 5 machine-gun bullets. So there just can't ever be too little to save! Come on, everybody, scrape your broiling pan, your OTHERS TELL ME: "But my fats are often too dark to turn in." It doesn't make a mite of difference how dark or blackened ...or what smelly things like onion or fish you've cooked in your fat. Every drop of it will help make parachutes, synthetic rubber, soaps for the fighting and war fronts. Don't feel ashamed to hand it in to your butcher. If you save every bit of fat you possibly can, you're doing a job to be proud of!

THEN YOU HEAR! "But what sort of container will I use?" Any kind of tin can will do. The next time you open a can of fruit or juice or soup or vegetables, save it. But please don't use glass ...it almost always breaks and makes the fat difficult to salvage. When the can is full, take it to your butcher. For every pound, you'll get 2 red points. If you have any difficulty disposing of your fats, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

The men of our organization are no exception. The editorial in the February 6 issue of the New Iberia, La., Weekly Iberian is studerely appreciated, the more so because it was Specianeous and ably presented.

The fact is, such emergencies do happen in the Natural Gas business. They are handled as promptly and efficiently as trained workmen can handle them. It is a part of the Natural Gas man's code that, as the editorial says, "The public must be served." As to the unselfish devotion of these men to such hard work and trying conditions, there was nothing unusual about that to them. . for they are pipeliners, and proud of it

HOW IS MY WIFE MAKING OUT;

We owe a debt to this man. Adding a worry is not the way to show our gratitude. The security of his wife and family depends upon us. Our job on the home front is to heed ceiling prices. Then we won't over buy and cause an increase in prices. We'll check the black market and make it easier for servicemen's wives and others with low, fixed incomes.

When should a savings account be started?

Recently, a draftee called at a bank and presented a savings account book that had been given to him by his uncle, now deceased. The last entry was made in 1928. The total deposits at that time were $3,000. After the young man had established his identity, the account was checked. Imagine the surprise of the soldier when he was told he had a balance of almost $5,000. Just a rew dollars each week-laid the foundation for a sum that will enable this soldier to buy a small business, or pay his tuition in a first-class university when he is mustered out of the army. If you have a baby a day old, do some wise planning now. Today is the time to start his savings account.
